The Heritage Center of Red Cloud Indian School features an excellent collection of Lakota Tribal Art dating from the 1870s to the 21st Century. This superb collection features beadwork, porcupine quillwork and Leader Shirts. The collection also includes prize-winning paintings, graphics, and sculptures from the annual Red Cloud Indian Art Show, a nationally recognized competition for Native American artists throughout North America. The gift shop features local Lakota handmade arts and tribal arts and literature.

While visiting the Heritage Center, take time for a leisurely walk around the beautiful Red Cloud Indian School campus. Overlooking the school is the Holy Rosary Cemetery, burial site of Red Cloud, the great Oglala Chief.

In the newly renovated Heritage Center you may visit a historic replica of a 1940s classroom.

Red Cloud Indian Art Show

Each year since 1969, Red Cloud Indian School has hosted the Red Cloud Indian Art Show, inviting Native American artists from throughout the continent to enter paintings, graphics and sculptures for the competition. The show is the largest of its kind in the nation. The outstanding collection is on display year-round at the Heritage Center.

The Red Cloud Indian Art Show, featuring all new works each year and is open 7 days a week from the first Sunday in June through the third Sunday in August. Visitors and art collectors from across the U.S. and many foreign countries are attracted to the show each year. All pieces in the annual art show are for sale, providing an excellent market for Native American artists.
